

BULLETIN OF HUMAN DEVELOPMENT

No.18-19 MAR.2007

●SPECIAL ISSUE

- ARAKI Hozumi: The significance and future tasks of "The theory of hierarchies and stages on reversible operations in human development" (2)
- KATO Naoki: Note of studying for "Human development and system of groups" (17)
- NAKAMURA Ryuichi: The significance of the concept of reversible operation—In my experience of making developmental diagnosis and consultation..... (25)
- SHIRAISHI Eriko: A study of the new driving force on hierarchy of the reversible operation, "Connection" in human development—From the case study of three hypotonic children on young childhood— (34)
- TAKESHITA Hideko: Tanaka's theory of human development and evolution of individual development: From a view point of a comparative approach (46)

●NOTES

- TANAKA Kiyomu: Social Development and Human Development—A Study of A.Sen's Well-being theory— (57)
- TANAKA Koji: Some points of view about the academic ability nowadays in Japan (75)
- TAKEBU Sachiko: An Analysis of Nursing Practice as Care Management Practice—Through the practice of Public Health Nursing in regional health care in Sawauchi Village from the 1950s to the 1970s— (107)

●REPORTS

- KATAOKA Kyoko: A study for formative activities at the community center for children—Representative behavior and mother-infant's communication from one to two years old— (119)
- MASUDA Kazuyasu: An educational practice for a child "K" with severe physical disability at school (132)

●HISTORICAL ARTICLES

- TANAKA Masato: The reports deepened our theory and practice of education and care in Ohmigakuen (141)